This Week

I hope all of you to whom it applies have had a great spring break and are refreshed for the sprint toward semester's end. I think we're all looking forward to seeing things come to life all around us. It's sure to be a season filled with opportunities and needs and the responsibilities that go with them.

This will be an important week to us for several reasons. A big one is that our thoughts about our additional deacons are due at the close of Sunday evening. Thank you for praying about this and praying over it. Your input is much appreciated. Our elders plan to meet Tuesday evening to continue their work on this. Please pray for them as they do.

The supplies that are being collected to help care for displaced people in the Ukrainian crisis also need to be here by the end of the day. You may bring your items from the list and leave them on the tables at the back of the auditorium. We'll get them to our brothers in Mountain Home, and they'll be packed and sent where they're needed.

Remember our singing weekend this coming Saturday and Sunday, March 26-27. Lance Parrish of the Hillcrest church in Abilene will be our guest leader. Saturday at 3:00, we'll get together for workshop to learn several songs so we can sing them well. There will be a break so everyone can go have dinner, then we'll gather back here at 6:30 for an area-wide singing and prayer time. In our services next Sunday morning, Lance will lead our singing and Justin will present our lesson. Be sure to be with us!

Speaking of being with us, don't miss this evening either. It will be our first youth led service of this year. I'm thankful for our young people who are interested and growing, and for parents who are helping them learn to serve the Lord, and for all others who try to support them and encourage them in their greatest of all tasks: bringing up their children in the training and instruction of the Lord.

--Bill
